Blue Devils Play Spring Grid Game

The 1947 edition of the Statesboro High School Blue Devils will play a spring football game Friday night, March 28, when they meet the Claxton High School team.

This will be the first preview game ever played by the Blue Devils and will give their friends and supporters a pre-season estimate of what their team will be when the football season opens this fall.

The spring football game is made possible under new rules and regulations adopted by the athletic association which governs the district football teams.

Captain Ernest Teel announced that he began his spring football practice Tuesday afternoon in spite of the airish quality of the early March winds. He stated that about ten of his 1946 team were out to try to hold their places earned last season. He added that a fair number of candidates turned out for the first practice and that his material this year is a little better than that with which he began last year.

Monday morning of this week only 170 auto owners had applied for their city auto tag.

"Night Must Fall" a psychological melodrama by Emlyn Williams, will be presented by the Masques, dramatic organization of the Georgia Teachers College, on Tuesday evening, March 11, at 8:00 o'clock in the college auditorium.

Jaycees Sponsor Magician Birch at SHS Auditorium

Princess, the Vanishing Pony, will be in Statesboro at the High School auditorium on Tuesday, March 11, when she will assist her master, Birch, renowned magician, in entertaining the children of Statesboro, those who are youthful in spirit as well as those who are youthful in age.

Princess is one actress who enjoys her work and who is never temperamental. She takes life philosophically and displays little or no vanity. She likes children and a crowd of youngsters may always be seen gathered about her as she takes her daily sight-seeing tour through the city.

The cooler months of the year are working months for Princess, for it is then that she is called upon to make her appearance at each Birch performance, where she is hoisted in mid-air and then disappears at the snap of her master's fingers.

It might also be said that Princess is the only living actress of the Statesboro Birch production. She has never been known to give an interview to the newspaper and has never voluntarily been quoted or had her photograph taken. She comes from the Dutch West Indies, is ten years old and weighs one hundred and fifty pounds.

But Princess is only one small portion of the great Birch array of thrilling illusions and demonstrations. The Birch production is a musical interlude on her specially built marimba at the evening performance.

The show is sponsored by the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce and tickets may be purchased at the local drug stores.

Ga. Progress Day At College On March 11-12

Miss Margaret Hargrove, national director of the American Red Cross in charge of college units, will be the principal speaker at Georgia Progress Day, which will be observed Wednesday, March 12, 1947, at Georgia Teachers College, "Work of Women's Clubs in Communities" is to be the general theme of the observance.

A native of Louisville, Ky., Miss Hargrove was graduated from Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Virginia, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She received her Ph.D. from Cornell University. For several years she taught at Ward Belmont in Nashville before becoming dean of women at Beaver College, Pennsylvania. She was also dean of women at Carroll College in Wisconsin.

The program on Tuesday, March 11, with a meeting of the First District Women's Clubs to be held at the Statesboro Women's Club. Following this will be a registration of the guests on Tuesday afternoon, preceding the actual opening of the session on Wednesday. Planned also for Tuesday is a late tea, followed that evening by a play to be presented by the Dramatic Club entitled "Night Must Fall" by Emlyn Williams. This will be the winter production of the Masques.

The session will formally open on Wednesday morning and the "all day" will be devoted to serious discussion and study. Plans include the general assemblies featuring the outstanding speakers, the individual discussion groups in the afternoon and a culminating assembly to summarize the entire program.

Under the general theme of Women's Clubs Work in Communities, there will be smaller discussion groups dealing with specific problems. There will be four such groups under the guidance of Mrs. Harvey Trice, Thomasville, Miss Frances Knight, Savannah; Mrs. J. O. Johnston, Statesboro; Mrs. H. J. McCormick, Statesboro; Mrs. E. L. Barnes, Statesboro; Mrs. Frank Dennis, Millen. The problems that they will discuss are: "Youth Center as a Means of Helping to Solve a Juvenile Delinquency Problem," "Community Beautification," "Cultural Projects in the Community with Emphasis on Libraries and Fine Arts," and "Child Welfare With Emphasis on the Handicapped Child."

The leaders for the Temperance League are not yet named. There is no doubt but that the vast majority of the voters of the county want the county to go dry, and we are going to still give them the chance. The will of the majority cannot be finally stopped by a legal technicality.

We will be circulating a new "petition before the week is out," they say. "We had an enthusiastic response to the first appeal, and we expect a still more enthusiastic response now."

Ordinary Enjoined From Calling Liquor Election

With the announcement that the petition presented to Mr. F. I. Williams, Ordinary of Bulloch County, calling for an election on the question of liquor control in the county, was short of forty-seven names of the necessary 35 per cent of the registered voters, a spokesman for the Bulloch Citizens Temperance League states that a new petition will be circulating before this week ends.

The petition as presented was checked by the Board of Registrars for the election did not contain 3,278 names, which was short of the 3,278 names needed. The list of registered voters in the county totals 9,366 names and the law requires that 25 per cent of this total must petition the Ordinary for the election before he can legally order the election.

The leaders for the Temperance League are not yet named. There is no doubt but that the vast majority of the voters of the county want the county to go dry, and we are going to still give them the chance. The will of the majority cannot be finally stopped by a legal technicality.

Injunction Says Cards No Petition

F. I. Williams, Ordinary of Bulloch County, has been enjoined from calling an election as petitioned by the Bulloch Citizens Temperance League to determine whether or not Bulloch County shall have the status of "wet."

The injunction is filed in the names of thirteen licensed liquor dealers in the county and sets out that the ordinary is without legal authority to call the election. According to the injunction, the petition presented to the ordinary asking for the election did not contain the necessary number of names of registered voters to make up the 35 per cent needed to call the election.

The filers of the injunction also contend that the signing of individual cards on which the petition is printed, does not constitute a petition and that the ordinary does not now have on file a lawful petition to call the election.

According to the county board of registrars, there are 9,366 registered voters in the county. The provisions set up for calling an election require that 3,278 registered voters must petition the ordinary for the election. The petition presented to Mr. Williams was presented by Judge M. Price, of Pembroke. He has ordered Mr. Williams to appear at the court-house in Pembroke on Monday morning, March 17, at 11 o'clock, to show why he should not be restrained and enjoined from calling an election. He is also restrained from calling the election upon the petition presented to him, and from doing any and all acts in furtherance of said call, holding said election and/or declaring the results thereof until further order of the court.

A copy of the said petition is attached to the injunction. It is "contended by those who filed the injunction that the signed cards presented to the Ordinary as the petition 'do not answer the requirements of the law as to a composite petition with 35 per cent of the registered, qualified voters' names appearing thereon; that the aggregate petition should not be considered in law sufficient to authorize the defendant (Ordinary Williams) to make the call for said election."

The hearing on the injunction will be in Pembroke, for Judge J. L. Reardon, of the Bulloch Superior Court, disqualified himself.

A Verse For This Week

Infinite toll would not enable you to sweep away a mist; but by ascending a little, you may often look over it altogether. So it is with our moral improvement: we wrestle fiercely with a vicious habit, which could have no hold upon us if we ascended into a higher atmosphere.—Hilps.

My Community--Today and Tomorrow

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Recently the Georgia Power Company announced a contest open to high school students. Medals will be given for the best essays written on the subject, "My Community—Today and Tomorrow." This week we are publishing the essay of the runner-up to the winner in the girls division. It is written by Miss Betty Ann Sherman. Next week we will publish the essay of Dan Blitch, the runner-up to the winner in the boys' division. As soon as we may we will publish the two winning essays, whose names will be announced later.

We are publishing these essays because they indicate how our young people are thinking and we believe that the way they think is tremendously important to Statesboro and Bulloch County—for the way they are thinking today is the way they will act tomorrow.

How can my community improve in the future? How can I and my generation help make Statesboro the town we would like it to be?

Statesboro, an ideal community located in Southeast Georgia, has an excellent climate. She is a wealthy and industrious county, and is the business center of one of the best agricultural districts of Georgia.

The landscaped appearance of Statesboro as a whole is good. Its residential sections take pride in their attractive homes. New ones are being built and others are being renovated constantly, making the city attractive to outsiders as well as making them more comfortable places in times the present rate. Second which to live. One of the greatest needs is the enactment of zoning laws within our city. This would use the value of property as well as the general appearance of the city. Our little parks in the business area as well as in the residential sections should be beautified with grass, shrubs, flowers and fountains so the people could enjoy them as well as to help make the city more attractive to everyone.

To help the appearance of the community and make it a more desirable place in which to live, the citizens have just voted bonds which will include such advantages as the complete renovation of all school properties, with additional units for expanded courses; the extension of the water and sewer mains for the service of more people; and to give added fire protection; and the paving of another through street to help take traffic off the main business streets. Even with these improvements much is left to be done by the citizens here and there.

Industry is the one thing that every individual needs to make produce more so that he may enjoy living more, and thus beautify his life. In the same way, it is so with a community. Statesboro is no exception. We need more and greater industry as a community. With added industries we will have more and better paid workers who, in turn, will help provide better living conditions for all and would help our little city be a more beautiful place in which to live. The type and kind of industry we need should be owned and operated by our own people who know and understand our needs and desires. We are proud of our pickling plant, our tobacco market, our several bottling plants, our peanut plant and our radio station, but we need to enlarge these industries as well as to induce others to come in and establish new industries. Our lighting equipment, new bleacher seats and a grass carpet for the playing field.

The development of the recreational facilities in Statesboro is one of the greatest needs. We have a skating rink and bowling alley, two moving picture shows and a newly organized teen-canteen. We greatly appreciate these as our patronage will show, but our need for a swimming pool and a newly organized teen-canteen. Our adult friends now have a newly organized Country Club. A Statesboro baseball team is a surety for the next summer. Our city is growing rapidly in recreational facilities. Now, with the placing of a municipal swimming pool at the disposal of the young people, we will have a welcome for all in the midst of a group of healthy, growing, young Americans.

The slogan of Statesboro is "Welcome Where Nature Smiles." With the above in mind we might also say "Welcome Where Opportunity Awaits You."

Some Little Things

If you are living in an apartment or furnished rooms or in one of the many tiny homes built on small lots and if you have children and no nurse, you are in need of a place for your children to play.

We are not now thinking of a large municipal playground. We are thinking of small neighborhood playground centers.

We are thinking of small playgrounds where you can take the kids and leave them during the morning while you are cleaning up and cooking dinner, or while you come to town to do your morning shopping.

We are thinking of small playgrounds, enclosed so that you will know that your child is safe from traffic and straying dogs.

We are thinking of small parks with a slide, a couple of see-saws, a swing or two, and a sand pile and a portable wading pool where the small children can play.

We are thinking of small areas which can be made beauty spots of Statesboro to serve the double purpose of recreation spots for the tiny tots, and as attractions to Statesboro.

We are thinking of harrassed mothers whose pride and joy is their child, and who are constantly underfoot while she goes about her household duties.

We are thinking that she could take Junior to the neighborhood playground, with a pretty fence or heavy hedge around it, where she could leave him and know that for a couple of hours he would be kept busy at the swing, the slide, the flying jenny, the sand pile, and be safe from the passing traffic.

We are thinking of the kids who would enjoy being with other kids of the same age and size and who would know the freedom of a playground.

We are thinking that there could be a neighborhood playground, maybe two, on West Main Street, on North Main Street, East Main Street, Savannah Avenue, South Main Street, College Street, Zetterower Street—all over town.

And we are thinking—Statesboro needs these things.

WORTH McDOUGALD

Is your cow contented? If she isn't you might be interested in what is going on at the University of Missouri's Agricultural School.

Scientists there, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are trying to answer the question, "What makes a cow comfortable?" They realize that every time "Bossy" switches her tail and won't give down her milk, it doesn't necessarily mean that flies are bothering her.

Her stall could be too small and she might be afflicted with claustrophobia (a fear of closed spaces). But it might be better not to move her until she might get lonely. So, what is a man to do? These men of science intend to find out just what is the best course to follow.

The above aspects are, of course, the lighter side of the experiments which are being seriously conducted. The scientists want to know just how much air makes a drought for a cow. They want to know if the bovine gets chilled when the barn door is left open, or if closing the door makes the stall feel stuffy.

Their primary aim is to increase milk production. They believe answering questions such as these will help do that.

These men at the Missouri school are exploring every part of cow life. They are, for instance, trying to find out how sensitive cows are to colors. Many hams, they say, are painted red, but red might be most repulsive to a sensitive cow. Who knows? They want to find out whether it wouldn't be better to paint the inside walls white or black, or maybe

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

Last week we committed an unfortunate error in our Uneasy Chair and violated one of our city ordinances. It is such occurrences that gives this column its name.

We regret the error and are embarrassed over the violation of the city ordinance.

Another thing being investigated is whether cows, if left alone, would do most of their sleeping during the day or night. Nobody yet seems to know the answer. They intend to find out.

Some farmers and dairymen believe that certain noises disturb a cow while she is being milked. And so we arrive at this philosophical conclusion—it sometimes takes such an error to learn who are your friends.

Last week we parked our '36 Chevrolet and returned later to find a violator's copy, ticket number 948, of the Statesboro Police Department. Traffic Division for parking in a prohibited area. We paid a visit to His Honor and paid our fine with a feeling of embarrassment. For it is we who write here after week about observing our city's traffic regulations. However, we got some satisfaction in complaining that the sign indicating that we were in a prohibited area was not visible from the angle at which we parked. We pulled up on the L. A. Waters Furniture Store side of Walnut Street, across from Bradley and more milk brings in greater profits for Cone Seed and Feed Company, dairymen, then the scientist's work won't have been in vain. VETERANS CORNER

Veterans of World War II have been given six additional months in which to reinstate their National Service Life Insurance policies, Jack I. Blies, VA Contact Representative at Statesboro, reported today.

A new law just passed by Congress and signed by the President gives the Administrator of Veterans Affairs authority to determine the conditions of reinstatement on NSLI policies.

Mr. Blies has been advised that General Omar Bradley, VA Administrator, under his new authority has directed that NSLI policies which have lapsed at any time may be reinstated by payment of two monthly premiums and a comparative health statement.

All NSLI policies provide for a waiver of premiums for veterans who become totally disabled for six or more consecutive months. Even though premiums are being waived, these veterans can convert their term policies to all types of permanent insurance except that for an endorsement plan. The premiums will be waived during continuance of total disability.

The Contact Representative at the Statesboro office will assist veterans in filling out the form. The office is located at 214 East Main Street, Statesboro, Georgia.

"no parking" sign is posted on the wall about six feet from the ground. We just did not see the sign—which is no reason for violating the parking regulation. It'll not happen again. We know of a parking place where we'll not park; look at the walls of the buildings near where you are fixing to park. If there's a "no parking" sign, you can't park. It's a good idea to look for signs anyway—there may be one and you may not see it on casual glancing.

We'll be glad to see the parking meters.

Good Books Are True Friends

In the best books great men talk to us, give us their most precious thoughts, and pour their souls into ours.—Channing
By Mrs. F. F. Baker

THE ANGELIC REVENGERS—by Pierre Andrieux.

This is a most unusual book, Victorian in manner (language, scene and time), but the story itself is pure Gothic horror in style.

There are two heroines, sweet, innocent and beautiful, (with the accent on innocent), Lucan, whose parents are dead, has been governess to the children of Mr. Armworth, a widower. He offers her an insulting proposal. Overcome with fear and disgust, she runs away to her childhood friend, Zosine. Unfortunately, Zosine's father has lost all his money and

YOUR VICTIM—by Pat McGee.

This is the most radical departure from the usual whodunit you can imagine. Who said there weren't any new ideas in detective stories? In the story, or, rather, in the variety mystery story, you know the victim, but not the murderer. In this one, you know the murderer, but not the victim. (If there is such a word.) If not, I've just invented it.

A group of Marines in the Aleutians find a scrap of newspaper in a package from home, torn in such a way that it tells of Paul Stetson being arrested for murder, but doesn't tell who he killed. One of the Marines has worked in Stetson's organization, and tells the boys all he knows of Paul and his associates. The boys start a sweepstakes, each one putting so much money on his choice for victim, the winner will be the man who best to carry on, for the sake of her child.

Gus meets her at the dock and they decide to run away together. Daisy, although brokenhearted, that she and Gus were never suited to each other, and does her best to carry on, for the sake of her child.

This book could have been written in 1846, it follows so closely the language and style of the period. The fact that it was written in 1946 proves that Mr. Andrieux possesses genius as a writer.

"THE RUSTLE OF PETTICOATS"—Rene de Fontaine McCormick.

This book relates the further adventures of "Little Coquette." The precocious Simone is grown up, and World War I is in full swing. A perfect picture of the times, it is witty, and extremely well, shall we say, French?

"THE HOUSE ON THE PARK"—by Marjorie Worthington.

This is a nostalgic little tale of a period too close to us to be forgotten, but too remote to be anything like a pleasant memory—the early 1900's. The Oberlunds are well-to-do, have a good business, a fine home, and are thorough nice people, with the exception of Maude, the baby of the family, pretty, selfish and hypocritical. Daisy, the oldest, is plain of face but sweet of heart. Of the two, I think I would rather have known Daisy. She is a trifle straight-laced, but not too much so. On a visit to one of the family meets Gus Falks, who falls in love, surprisingly, with the plain Daisy, much to Maude's annoyance. In a fit of wounded pride, she accepts Felix Thomas, who might have made a good husband for some girl, but not for Maude. Both girls get married and Daisy and Gus go out West to Denver, where Gus has mining interests. They are quite happy. Although very ill-matched, Daisy

Loach, of the Denmark community.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. DeLoach are making their home in Brooklet, and have an apartment in the Harvey House on Parker Avenue. Mr. DeLoach is employed at "Tom's Place" and Mrs. DeLoach will continue her work at Denmark's store.

MOORE—CONE
Mr. and Mrs. Roland Moore have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Robert Lee Cone, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Cone. The wedding will take place in the spring.

Mrs. Harold Joiner, a recent bride, was the honoree at a lovely miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Grooms.

W. L. McElveen, prominent citizen of the Aroclia community, was carried to Oglethorpe Hospital in Savannah on Friday for treatment. Mr. McElveen has not been well for some time and when he became worse he was carried to the hospital.

A pall of gloom has been cast over the Brooklet school because of the serious burns of Dorothy Smith, popular member of the eighth grade in the Brooklet school. She is in the Bulloch County Hospital as the result of attempting to start a fire in the cook stove with kerosene oil. The stove exploded, Dorothy was burned practically over her entire body, and the house and contents were burned. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Smith, of the Leefield community.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fordham at Leefield was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The Fordhams were at the Black Creek Church when their house caught. It is not known how the house caught, but it is thought to have been from defective wiring. Very little of the furniture was saved. The house was the property of J. Harry Lee, of Leefield.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Alderman were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kennedy, of Statesboro, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Alderman, of Savannah, Mrs. Felix Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alderman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wynn, all of Brooklet, Robert Alderman, of Sylvan, and Miss Mamie Lou Anderson.

Mrs. Richard Williams continues quite ill at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mitchen, of Thomasboro, visited friends here during the week end.

Misses Joyce Denmark, Lavana Daves and Ellen Parrish, of the Teachers College, spent the week end here with their parents.

END OF ROUND ONE

We made one mistake, and it cost us the first round. We've got to start all over. But we are starting, right now.

It took 3,278 signatures to call the election, and we had them—signatures of 3,27 bona fide registered voters. BUT we didn't turn them all in at the same time, and then found out too late that that meant that some of them didn't count. The law says that we are officially 47 shy of the goal, and the whole thing is thrown out, lock, stock and barrel.

The registrars were clean and fair and Christian gentlemen. The same goes for the Ordinary, who was courteous and obliging. The County Attorney was unbiased and eager to serve the county as best he could. So were the other law yers consulted. We thank them all. It wasn't their fault, and we blame no one but ourselves. And the only thing we know that is wrong with us is that we made one slip.

Thanks, also, to those who circulated petitions; who have "talked up" the cause; who signed the petition cards, and contributed money, and have in other ways helped. We want your help again.

We are not through! There is no doubt but that the vast majority of the voters of the county want the county to go dry, and we are going to still give them the chance. The will of the majority cannot be finally stopped by a legal technicality.

We will be circulating a new petition before the week is out. Everybody must sign again. We had an enthusiastic response to the first appeal; we expect a still more enthusiastic response now. Let's have the petition ready inside of a week!

DUTCH CLUB DANCE

Among the social events of the week was the lovely dance given Thursday evening for the members of the Dutch Club with Mr. and Mrs. Perry Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Nath Holliman, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Bland and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Pruitt as hosts. The lovely decorations of the Woman's Club was the George Washington motif. Red, white and blue crepe paper was used very effectively. Over the mantel was a limb of a tree with red balloons as cherries. A red hatchet hung beside the limb. On the table was a white marquette cloth with red and blue ribbons. White gladioli centered the table with the red and blue candles on each end. At intermission, dainty cheese and chicken salad sandwiches, olives, individual white cakes topped with a red hatchet, and coffee were served. Emma Kelly and her "Kings of

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

A lovely surprise birthday dinner was given by Mrs. Bob Pound at the Norris Hotel Wednesday night for Mr. Pound, whose birthday occurred on that day. Mr. Pound was told he was invited to a dinner for someone else, and of course, was a few minutes late. He was ushered into the dining room of the hotel, where eleven couples were waiting with "Happy Birthday to You." The table was centered with the birthday cake with a triple border of Jonquills. Yellow candles were burning and spring flowers were used on the buffet, with the yellow candles. A three-course dinner was served. The birthday cake was cut and served with cream. Mr. Pound was presented with a set of golf woods by the guests. Bling was enjoyed.

F. F. F. CLUB MEETS

The members and new pledges of the F. F. F. Club met at the home of Virginia Lee Floyd Saturday night. After a brief business meeting, they were served sandwiches and punch. Later on, they went to the Teen Tavern, where games were played and dancing enjoyed.

C. T. A.'s MEET

The C. T. A.'s met at the home of Shirley Lanier on Wednesday night. After a business meeting, cocoa, cola, ham sandwiches, pickles, french fried potato chips, cake and whipped cream were served. All twelve members were present.

DESSERT PARTY

Mrs. B. H. Ramsey entertained for a few of her friends with a dessert party Monday afternoon at her home on Savannah Avenue. The St. Patrick decoration theme was carried out. White gladioli, mixed with green ferns, were her flowers. Contest games were played and Mrs. Percy A. Bennett and Mrs. Harry Smith won prizes. Mrs. Ramsey served her guests pound cake, with green icing, ice cream, and coffee.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lanier announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Corrine L. Pafford, of Statesboro and Atlanta, to Mr. W. L. Adams, of Barnesville and Claxton. The wedding took place in a quiet ceremony at the Methodist parsonage in Claxton Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Adams left immediately after the ceremony for New York and from there had reservations to fly to Bermuda for a two week's wedding trip.

AFTERNOON PARTY

Mrs. Robert Donaldson and Miss Dorothy Brannen entertained with a bridge party at the home of Miss Brannen on Zetter Avenue Friday afternoon. Friends for four tables were invited. For flowers they used carnations and gladioli. For high

ALL'S FAIR

Oh Man Winter has dealt me a blow; My hands are blue, my brain is friz; Pipes are busted, temperature low.

If that ain't bad, tell me what is now I know the above is not poetry, but it has filled up a line or two. This muggy weather is only a mild sample of what the English people have had to endure over a long period of time on their tight little island. Manned Hall Porritt in a letter to Liz Smith writes that during the longest period of freezing weather, she and Jimmie had no fuel except coal dust. Each day she made her way through the snow to shop for food which all too many times was potatoes and cabbage or cauliflower. Most of her letter was devoted to warm thanks for a lovely package Liz had sent her, containing a ready mix for buckwheat cakes, canned sausage and log cabin syrup. Imagine what a feast that must have been after a daily diet of cabbage and turkey and cranberries for Christmas. Manned's letter hinted that the British were almost in a state of revolution because of stupid or deliberate attitude of leaders which has brought about the present crisis. Subjects resent the Royal family cruising in tropical waters while those behind on the bleak island shiver and exist on meager rations. Manned finds consolation in the fact that her passport is in order, that she is an American citizen, and a good place to come to—even if we do have two governors.

Willie Mathews (Mrs. Charlie) is off to Alameda, California, for an extended visit to daughter, Marguerite Morris. Alameda is just across the Bay from San Francisco and Marguerite and Bob have made wonderful plans to make Willie's visit memorable. Of course, they will dine at the "Top of the Mark" Willie is going to.

score, Mrs. Devane Watson was given a box of assorted jellies; for low, Mrs. Jim Coleman received note paper, and for cut Mrs. Hoke Brunson received playing cards. A dessert course with salted nuts and coffee was served.

ing by train via Chicago, at which point she boards the "City of San Francisco" for really deluxe traveling.

BOBBY POUND furnishes this one: On Saturday morning as Bobby was sponging his cereal, he suddenly said to Evelyn, "Mama, I want to go to Sunday School." Evelyn explained that he could go to Sunday School tomorrow. Bobby seemed to think it over. Then his bright eyes darted to the clock and he gravely announced, "Mama, I looked at the clock and it says 'Tomorrow'."

THE LOCAL PREMIER of a school boy's version of "Song of the South," which played at the Grammar School auditorium last week, met with such acclaim that a request performance will be given in the High School. Ronny Brown takes the bow as author and producer and Donald Kitchening in the role of Uncle Remus deserves an Academy Award. Edna Allen, their teacher and a friend, smiles her approval.

WHEN ANN PITTMAN (Mrs. Marvin) was asked recently if she planned to accompany Dr. Pittman to Germany, she promptly replied, "No, the sight of so many starving children would be more than I could stand." Knowing her love for children and her keen interest in their welfare, we realize that she could not go into that war-torn country except as one assigned to service; never as a passive visitor.

LADIES' NIGHT at the Rotary offered superb entertainment and the dressed-up women presented a sort of home talent "Fashion-ata." Virgil Agan gets credit for bringing to Rotarians, their wives and sweethearts the sort of talent that won his heart several years ago.

Floyd, George, Henry and Marian Jennings made up a brother and sister quartette over at Dawson and so excellent was their harmonizing that they were in constant demand as entertainers. Floyd went professional and with Bernice, who later became his wife, travelled on Lowe's Circuit for many years. At present he is a plaster contractor and they make their home in Washington, D. C.

Brother Agan presented them at a Rotary luncheon last May and as Ladies' Night approached Bernice, remembering the lovely program the preacher had presented, requested that he invite the Jennings in-laws to sing for them. So Floyd, Bernice, Lillian, George, Henry and Marian all combined their talents and hit the "jackpot" in entertaining. Their theme was "Love."

Floyd and Bernice sang such old favorites as "Will You Remember?" from May Time, and "Indian Love Call." Henry gave out with Negro spirituals such as "Gwine to 'Hebben'" and "Of Man River." For old time's sake the four Jennings sang together just like they did when Virgil fell in love with Marian. Lavinia Floyd, pretty as a picture in a floral jersey gown and an orchid, assisted Lillian at the piano.

Mary Dan Coleman's brunette beauty was definitely NOT eclipsed by her smart frock, with black skirt and print top. Mary Agnes Williams added eye appeal in a gown featuring a close-fitting, slinky black bodice with soft silk skirt. Her corsage was pink.

TONIGHT A NEW local talent broadcast emanates from WJNS, sponsored by H. Minkovitz & Son. Parish Blitch will act as M. C. Jack Averitt will sing. Earhart Epling will play her harp. All of which sounds awfully good. This program will continue on Thursday evenings for at least three months.

AND SPEAKING of talents reminds me that Statesboro has scored again, and this time it is Patty Banks who is the winner! In the auditions held Saturday at Wesleyan College, Patty won a $300 scholarship in the speech contest. So Carmen Cowart, her teacher, is again in the mood to celebrate. Patty could have entered in piano and voice with equal success, we believe. She fully intended trying out for the voice scholarship but she developed a good case of laryngitis and Nanette Cone advised her not to attempt it.

Silas Johnson, President of Wesleyan, in presenting the award to Patty, recalled visits to her mother's home and commented on her vivid personality, which is so pronounced in Patty. Patty's classmates were of one accord when honors were handed out at High School for she is Miss S. H. S. Miss Vanity, Most Popular, Most Ambitious, and Most Talented. All of which is enough to turn the head of a mere 16-year-old. But Patty's lovely head is set squarely on her very lovely shoulders and she takes her honors as a challenge to greater accomplishments.

WE REMEMBER This week Ann Waters, who has had an ear operation in Atlanta.

JUST RECEIVED A marvelous box of Barracini candles from Willie Cobb. She is coming down soon for a visit.

Your Legislature

It has been a long time since a session of the Georgia Legislature was so confronted with vital important legislation, questions of high court import to the welfare of the people.

For instance, confronting the House Ways and Means Committee has been the task of providing some thirty-nine million dollars additional revenue for expanded State services, including a 50 per cent boost in that part of the school teachers' salaries paid by the State.

The House committee voted 29 to 6 in favor of a three per cent general sales tax, and during the week end recess of the Assembly, its members went home to talk the matter over with their constituents. Such tax, it was estimated, would raise twenty-eight million dollars.

As approved by the committee, retail merchants would collect one cent on sales from 10 to 30 cents, two cents on those from 31 to 70 cents, three cents on sales from 71 to $11.05, and three per cent on all sales exceeding this sum. Not subject to the levy, if the committee bill is unchanged, would be farm products when sold by producers in the original state, and the tax would be only two per cent on automobiles selling for more than a thousand dollars net.

Instead of a sales tax on wholesalers' transactions, a flat levy of $100 against each wholesaler was substituted.

Then, the Legislature was faced with the question of labor legislation. Measures making unlawful the closed shop of union dues as well as restrictions against mass picketing, were passed the House of Representatives, as follows: Anti-closed shop check-off, 157 to 28; anti-picketing, 146 to 16.

The State Senate had already given approval to similar bills. The proposal for State owned and operated liquor stores was another important measure given birth by the hoppers, as well as legislation for a bonus for Georgia World War II veterans.

As favorably reported out of the Veterans' Affairs committee of the House, the bonus bill provides that former servicemen would be given $10 for each month's service overseas and $7 for each month on the home front. The Senate committee likewise reported out a bonus measure.

A State bond issue of some forty million dollars, payable over a period of ten years, would be floated to meet the cost.

Also, a constitutional amendment was proposed to submit the bonus question to the people. The House has passed the bill restricting the use of fireworks in the State to adults only.

H. B. 351 by Rep. Sam Welch, of Cobb, would prohibit hitchhiking in Georgia.

Representatives Kidd and Jennings, of Baldwin, have introduced a bill in the House to levy a 2 per cent tax on the gross premium receipts of all persons, firms, corporations, associations, societies and fraternal organizations doing an insurance business in Georgia.

Legislation prohibiting the closed shop, mass picketing and involuntary checking-off, aimed at labor unions, has passed both houses and will soon go to the Governor for signature.

Every other Monday approximately 35 members of the State Department of Education, county superintendents, board members in the Atlanta Area and others interested in education are meeting on their own time for four hours in a college-approved course designed to find the most feasible methods for inaugurating a 12th grade in Georgia.

The course is under the general direction of Dr. L. D. Haskey, of Emory University. He is assisted by a steering committee which plans each four-hour period and makes arrangements for bringing in out-of-state experts who have had experience in setting up a twelfth-grade program.

Those enrolled in this course took the position that since the teachers must go to summer school, and get extra training, members of the state education staff should take a college refreshers every now and then to keep themselves on the beam. It so happens that in this case they are being extremely practical and tackling a very timely problem.

A number, including State School Superintendent, M. D. Collins, are getting college credit for this work.

The class doesn't spend four hours listening to lectures. After getting their bearings, the group is divided into work parties which get down to the business of agreeing on certain fundamentals and putting them down on paper. The class hopes to come out with some concrete suggestions that will help those schools that wish to start planning for another grade.

One general premise has received the hearty approval of all—that starting a twelfth grade program should NOT mean the mere adding of another grade at the top with a few more teachers and some new textbooks, but that it should involve a reorganization, readjustment and enrichment of the entire school curriculum from the elementary grades on up.

As a matter of fact, the twelfth grade bill which has been reported out favorably by a House committee of the General Assembly, makes it possible for the schools desiring it to inaugurate the twelfth grade. For the next two years there will be no additional money for a sudden, state-wide change. Therefore, most schools will have to go slowly, requiring perhaps four or five years to complete the process of reorganization. Of course, some schools in the state already have a twelfth grade which they have been financing out of local funds.

The planning group is not interested in evolving a set of ironclad rules that each school system going to a twelfth grade will have to follow. It is more interested in studying the problem from all angles and then giving the schools the benefit of this study, letting them make the principal decision themselves.

Did you know that the Social Security Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance now has wage records reported for about seventy-five million people who have worked in jobs covered by Social Security? Large numbers of workers have identical names. These facts emphasize the importance of the identification of each worker's account by his exact name and his full Social Security Account number.

The Smiths of the nation lead the rest among the Social Security records. They have 1,145-

000 representatives. The Johnsons come second with 904,732. The Browns hold third place with 597,710. The Williams group is next with a total of 546,161. Next come the Millers with 514,606. The Jones family with 484,368, and the Davis family with 388,530. There are also more than 300,000 each of Moores, Wilsons, and Andersons, in that order.

Since retirement payments under the Social Security Law are based on earnings and time spent in covered employment, the accuracy in the recording of the wages is most important. The employee should see to it that every employer has a record of his name and Social Security number just as they appear on his card. The employer should make it a practice to have each new employee show his Social Security card on the first day he goes to work.

Martin J. Johnson, Manager of the Savannah Field Office of the Social Security Administration, invites the readers of this paper to call on his office for any information they may wish about their retirement and death benefits due under the Social Security.

He particularly urges workers over age 65 who have been recently employed in public works but are no longer working, to get in touch with his office.

As ever, JANE.

A NEW SERVICE... to help Your Town Discover its Industrial Possibilities!

THE raw products of Georgia are varied—and plentiful!—but many of them are shipped out of the state for processing. The good clay of ours can be made into tableware, insulators, decorative figurines and pottery... hides can be tanned and made into a multitude of leather items... our cypress, pines, oaks and other woods can be turned into countless items that are so simple of manufacture, yet so productive of a fine income!

Yes, Georgia has limitless resources that need only a little ingenuity, thoughtfulness, and perseverance to transform into the finished product. But we ship these resources out of the state and lose the added value of manufacture that could mean a tremendous income for Georgia and Georgians.

To help Georgia towns find the most logical small industries suited to their resources, this Company has established the Community Development Division. This Division includes—and gives wider scope to—the Georgia Better Home Towns Program with which you, undoubtedly, are familiar.

The regional representatives of our Better Home Towns Program have been given an intensive training course in industrial development procedures. This new training—plus their years of community betterment experience—will enable these seven men to be of greater service to you than ever before.

When they come to your town, they will help you to make a study of your natural resources, present manufactures, available workers, markets, water supply, etc. They will, in short, help you to find the opportunity for—and guide you in establishing—small industry, locally financed and locally operated! According to the experts, a variety of small manufacturing plants is the best insurance of a steadier income for a town and its citizens.

Our representatives will try to get around to each town as soon as they can. But, in the meantime, if you want further information about the Community Development plan, just write us at our Atlanta office.

For Bootleggers Only

This is not the first time that you, the Bootleggers in Georgia, have persuaded many of the good people to line up with you in an effort to bring about so-called "Prohibition."

We want to give you, the Bootleggers in Georgia, ample notice that if the people in Bulloch County vote to outlaw the legal alcoholic beverage stores in this county, Bulloch County will then be wide open... and waiting for you to come in.

If you come to Bulloch County, extra law enforcement will be needed in order to attempt to protect the people in the county.

Of course, you Bootleggers pay no taxes, no State taxes, no City taxes. You take money OUT of the county, but you bring no money TO the county. You are unsupervised, and you are responsible to nobody.

You breed LAWLESSNESS and CONTEMPT for the law.

Your kind flourishes in counties where so-called "Prohibition" is practiced.

So... put Bulloch County on your waiting list. Watch the election... and if the vote is AGAINST legal control, come on in. The county's yours!
